Grede Holdings LLC, a new company recently formed from the combination of Citation Corporation and Grede Foundries, continues to garner recognition for quality, customer service, and design excellence in the industry during the early months of 2010.

Grede's Iron Mountain division, located in Kingsford, MI, received a 2009 supplier award from Cummins Turbo Technologies for best performance in the area of "Management Attitude and Partnership in Response to Customer Demand." Cummins highlighted several of Grede's accomplishments including improvements in demand flow and capacity utilization as well as maximizing output while minimizing expediting costs.
